

Fighting all cancers....together!

Cancer Support Awareness Event

300 people including celebrity agony aunt Denise Robertson, The Sheriff of Newcastle, Deputy Mayor of Gateshead and X Factor girl band Bad Lashes attended a massive Cancer Support Awareness Event at the Cophthorne Hotel, Newcastle.

Believed to be the first of its kind in the North East, the event gathered together over 30 different support services for cancer patients.

"I would like to thank all involved with FACT for giving Paxman the opportunity to be present at the recent event. It was fantastic to see so many people and organisation building the awareness and supporting one another in such a positive way! Keep up the good work!" Richard Paxman – Operations Director, Paxman Coolers Ltd.

I thoroughly enjoyed the FACT event and felt it was very worthwhile attending. If you provide a service for people who have been diagnosed with cancer or are living with cancer, it is the perfect setting to meet people and organisations to which your service may be of use to. I wish there had something like this when I was going through my cancer treatment."
Fiona Macrae

The event included free advice on a huge range of things including how to cope with cancer, choosing a wig, M&S fashion, fitness and makeup. There was also be cancer experts and finance and employment specialists on hand to give advice and support, free holistic and complimentary therapies....plus much much more.

This was a major event for cancer sufferers in the region!

"To find people like yourself who have gone through the same (Breast Cancer), who know what support is necessary and what is needed, you are an inspiration to people like me who have just started their battle with this terrible disease. To organise an event and to bring it all together so that we are not trailing around internet sites or going from place to place is such a wonderful thing to do for people. I found the variety of people there were ever so helpful and very informative." Breast Cancer Patient

FACT Patron TV Presenter Kim Inglis said: "This was a truly amazing event – with unrivalled support for those suffering from cancer and their friends and families. The girls who make up FACT work tirelessly to support people suffering from all types of cancer....Saturday's event was a totally positive event full of energy."

"I very much appreciate hearing of your work and I am delighted that some of this is aimed at raising awareness of prostate cancer. The more effort in this direction the better!" John Neate, Chief Executive, The Prostate Cancer Charity.

"I was accompanying my friend who has breast cancer. I found the day very enjoyable. I thought the whole event was very well run and very informative for all that attended. Please let there be more!"
